Joshua Keadle Sentenced to 15 to 20 Years for Sexual Assault of a Minor

LINCOLN – Attorney General Jon Bruning today announced Joshua Keadle, 30, was sentenced to 15 to 20 years in prison on one count of first-degree sexual assault of a minor. Last month, he was convicted by jury in Dodge County District Court.

“Mr. Keadle raped a young girl while she slept,” said Bruning. “The seriousness of the crime merited a serious penalty. Today’s sentencing ensures Mr. Keadle is behind bars where he belongs.”

Keadle was accused of sexually assaulting a 15-year-old girl at the dormitory of what was then Midland Lutheran College in December 2008. The victim, now 18, testified that she had been asleep in the dormitory and woke up to find Keadle having sex with her. Keadle was 27-years-old at the time of the assault.

Assistant Attorney General Sandra Allen handled the case.
